About Los Angeles State Historic Park

This is the official sister website of Los Angeles State Historic Park, managed by California State Parks. Please visit our state page for additional information.

Los Angeles State Historic Park (LASHP) is a 32-acre California State Park in the heart of Los Angeles that offers beautiful views of downtown and creative public events.

LASHP is considered the leading-edge of California State Parks' efforts to bring the State Parks Mission to some of the most underserved, park-poor communities in the heart of the nation's second largest city in the United States.
